

Bergelson Lab

at Duke University

We want to know how babies learn language! We're looking for babies age 14-26 months to participate in our studies.

What's involved?

One visit to the Bergelson Lab. You would fill out some questionnaires about your child's language development, and your child would sit on your lap and wear a cap to measure their brain activity while hearing some words and sounds.

Why participate?

Your participation would help us understand how babies learn words. You would be compensated $20/hour and your child would receive a gift!

The Bergelson Lab is located on Duke's West Campus.
